Your source for regrinds and new ironing dies

Your Preferred Source for Can Tooling Solutions

At Optimal Tooling LLC, we are a small family-owned business whose focus is to be your dedicated supplier of new ironing dies and die regrinds. We understand your business and the need to meet tight production deadlines. That is why we provide the industry's fastest turnaround time on all regrind orders and use the latest technology to support our production and quality control systems. These competitive edges have enabled us to develop a strong customer base and provide unparalleled delivery.

Whether you need new irons or reworking of irons, redraws, or redraw sleeves, our skilled professionals will ensure that your orders are quickly and accurately completed.

Adding Value to Your Business

We add value to your business by solving the problem of slow regrind services, employee turnover and capital investment. By focusing on an intense lean production environment, we provide your operations with all your die rework services at a much greater value than if you did it yourself. When you factor in the cost of the machinery, the employee's salary and benefits, and the costs to the tool room, you will see why it makes great economic sense to partner with us to be your source for the reworking of dies and sleeves. It is our core business to be an extension of your toolroom and your trusted supplier!

Quality Assured

Our ISO-compliant quality assurance program guarantees that every workpiece we machine meets or exceeds the required tolerances.

We get it in, rework it, and get it shipped
